

Canadian Door Institute

WE OPEN MORE DOORS.

CDI is a national Dealer-based organization with the mandate of raising the professional standards of the garage door industry through training and education. The CDI promotes and supports local chapters of the organization as an essential way to ensure the participation of all Door Dealers across Canada. Fully funded by membership, CDI is open to Dealers, Manufacturers, Distributors, and Suppliers of upward-acting door products and related items. CDI offers programs and services, including a Training and Certification Program that provides technicians comprehensive teaching courses to ensure a higher level of competency is achieved in this industry. Visit www.cdi-door.com.

For years, professional garage door dealers have looked for ways to distinguish themselves from companies and individuals not committed to professional high standards supported by CDI.

By joining the Canadian Door Institute:

- You confirm that you support the CDI's mandate of Professionalism.
- You establish your firm as a quality-oriented door business with a long-term commitment to the industry.
- You support the official Trade Designation for our industry technicians across Canada.
- You become part of the conversation on issues such as safety standards and other topics that are more effectively changed with the strong unified voice of a national organization.
- Your customers will know that they are dealing with a great business and recognise the value of supporting you.

We bring good, successful people together to learn from each other. We continue to deliver a new level of professionalism to the industry. CDI offers many benefits including educational opportunities at our chapter meetings and seminars. CDI is the perfect venue for all dealers to discuss industry challenges and exchange ideas as to how we can better our industry for the benefit of all, including customers.
